

Dr. Victor Monsalvo - CV

Dr. Victor Monsalvo works as Projects Director at the Innovation and Technology Department of FCC Aqualia. He got his PhD on Chemical Engineering from University Autonoma de Madrid and got a position as Assistant Professor in Chemical Eng. Department from 2005 to 2014, and visiting researcher in different Universities: Leeds, Cranfield, Sydney and Aachen. Then, he was appointed as Head of Technological Area – Water in Abengoa Research until 2016, leading an active research team working in areas of water treatment and reuse, membrane based technologies and desalination processes. Involved in more than 25 research projects (public and private funded). He has directed research contracts with private companies, (co) authored 5 patents (national and international), around 50 journal and referred conference papers, 1 book chapter and edited 4 books. He has participated in evaluation committees in the PARTNERSHIPS Programme Joint Applied Research Projects (2011- 2014) Ministry of Education, Research, Youth and Sport (Romania) and in the National Committee for Evaluation of “Proyectos de investigación fundamental no orientada” 2012 for the Ministry of Economy and Competiveness (Spain).